It's All in the Details

Looks Good. Protects Better.

The hallmark of the Castia Stone siding system is the “rainscreen” design which allows proper moisture drainage and ventilation. When installed properly, the Castia Stone siding system will deflect any moisture directed at the building. If moisture does penetrate the siding, it will be channeled directly outward, thanks to Castia Stone’s innovative bracketing system that creates a continuous 1/2” gap between the siding and the actual structure. This air space prevents trapped moisture, which can lead to dry rot and mold.

The “Rainscreen” Advantage

Trapped moisture is the leading cause of structure failure. Other products, like stucco, wood siding and natural stone, do not feature this space for venting and draining. Moisture may not only enter from the outside, but condensation from inside may also migrate from the building interior and become trapped between the structure and exterior façade. The Castia Stone siding system allows any moisture that travels through the walls to vent outwards. Pre-cast stone has been used in construction for hundreds of years with proven strength and durability. Castia Stone is manufactured to withstand the abuse of natural elements such as rain, hail and ultraviolet rays.

Finishing Touches

Castia Stone will never require painting, because the color is throughout the system’s mix. This is just one of the aspects that make it a low maintenance asset.

Castia Stone also provides a wide selection of accessories designed to reflect an old-world elegance. Choose from an array of corbels, address blocks, vents, lighting blocks, fluted columns, walls and keystones to give your home a custom look. Castia stone is available in a variety of colors so you can match your existing structure or start anew.
